

DOMUS NOVA

Can Geko, Santa Eulalia
POA

Perched on a hillside plot overlooking luscious greenery, Can Geko is a paradisaical retreat. Sunlight plays across the terraces as the Ibiza breeze rustles through the leaves of fig trees. This impressive home combines endless outdoor options with more than 500 square metres of internal living space.

Drawn by the incredible vistas down to the plane below, step out of the villa and into your private tropical paradise. The fruit garden offers lemons, oranges, pomegranates, kiwis and pomelos. A verdant manicured lawn is a perfect spot for sunbathing.

Follow the pathway down to find an expansive swimming pool and outdoor kitchen. The heated pool features an automatic cover and a generous poolside area complete with showers. Languish in the sun on the built-in bench seating, relax in the shaded chillout space or embrace the Balearic lifestyle and bathe amongst the palms in the freestanding stone bath.

Several nooks and terraces provide an array of options for dining or entertaining, including a barbecue area and incredible views from the roof terrace. Alternatively, head to the fishpond or Moroccan fountain for quiet contemplation. The 16,700-square-metre plot is completely private and fully enclosed.

Heading back to the villa, the black-framed glass doors at ground level are mirrored on the outside – providing privacy to those inside. The contemporary and calming interior living space is arranged over three floors. One bedroom sits on the ground floor while at basement level, the plan unfurls revealing two bedrooms illuminated by a large light well. Palatial proportions continue to the first floor where two further ensuite bedrooms are located.

Bringing the outside in, the first-floor principal bedroom features floor-to-ceiling glazing. Integrated wardrobes ensure seamless flow while a pared-back ensuite features a twin vanity and frameless shower. Stepping outside onto the expansive roof terrace, views stretch from the landscaped garden and Cala Tarida, across Cala Corral and out to sea.

A striking yet tranquil family home, Can Carida provides the best of both worlds. Amongst palm trees and framed by pine-covered mountains, its idyllic setting complements its architectural innovation.

Location

Set into a pine-tufted hillside plot, Can Geko benefits from a secluded setting. However, it is only a short distance from shops and restaurants. Take a drive to the vibrant village of Jesus then on to the Hippy Markets of Santa Eulalia. The quieter side of the island, this area is ideal for families. The tranquil beaches of Cala Longa and Talamanca make for a serene, sun-soaked afternoon while bustling Ibiza Town is just 15 minutes away.
