

DOMUS NOVA

Can Mikkie, Cala Tarida
For 10 guests

A five-bedroom villa that doubles as a quiet retreat and a work of art. The long, low-slung design of Can Mikkie is the vision of Ibiza-based architect Jaime Romano. A bold blueprint, somewhere between modernism and brutalism. Shapes that make a feature of light and shade throughout the day. Thick, whitewashed walls, a foil for summer heat.

Interiors are designed by Isabelle Stanislas. Structural lines softened by earthy tones and touch-me finishes. A few mid-century pieces. The vibe here is at once chic and relaxed. Feel it in the open-plan living room – the heart of the home physically and socially. It's carefully zoned for lounging, cooking and dining around the long, sleek table. Perfect for entertaining.

No matter where you are in Can Mikke, there's a seamlessness between inside and out. Frameless, floor-to-ceiling glass doors slide back to transform each space into an external one. There's nothing but rolling hills and the sea breeze between you and the horizon.

The five, naturally bright bedrooms spread out laterally, each with warm wood details, modern en suites and private terraces with al fresco showers. Though there's nothing quite like starting the day here. Elsewhere outside, a stunning swimming pool is the centrepiece of manicured gardens. Wander across to wilder parts dotted with almond trees.

“

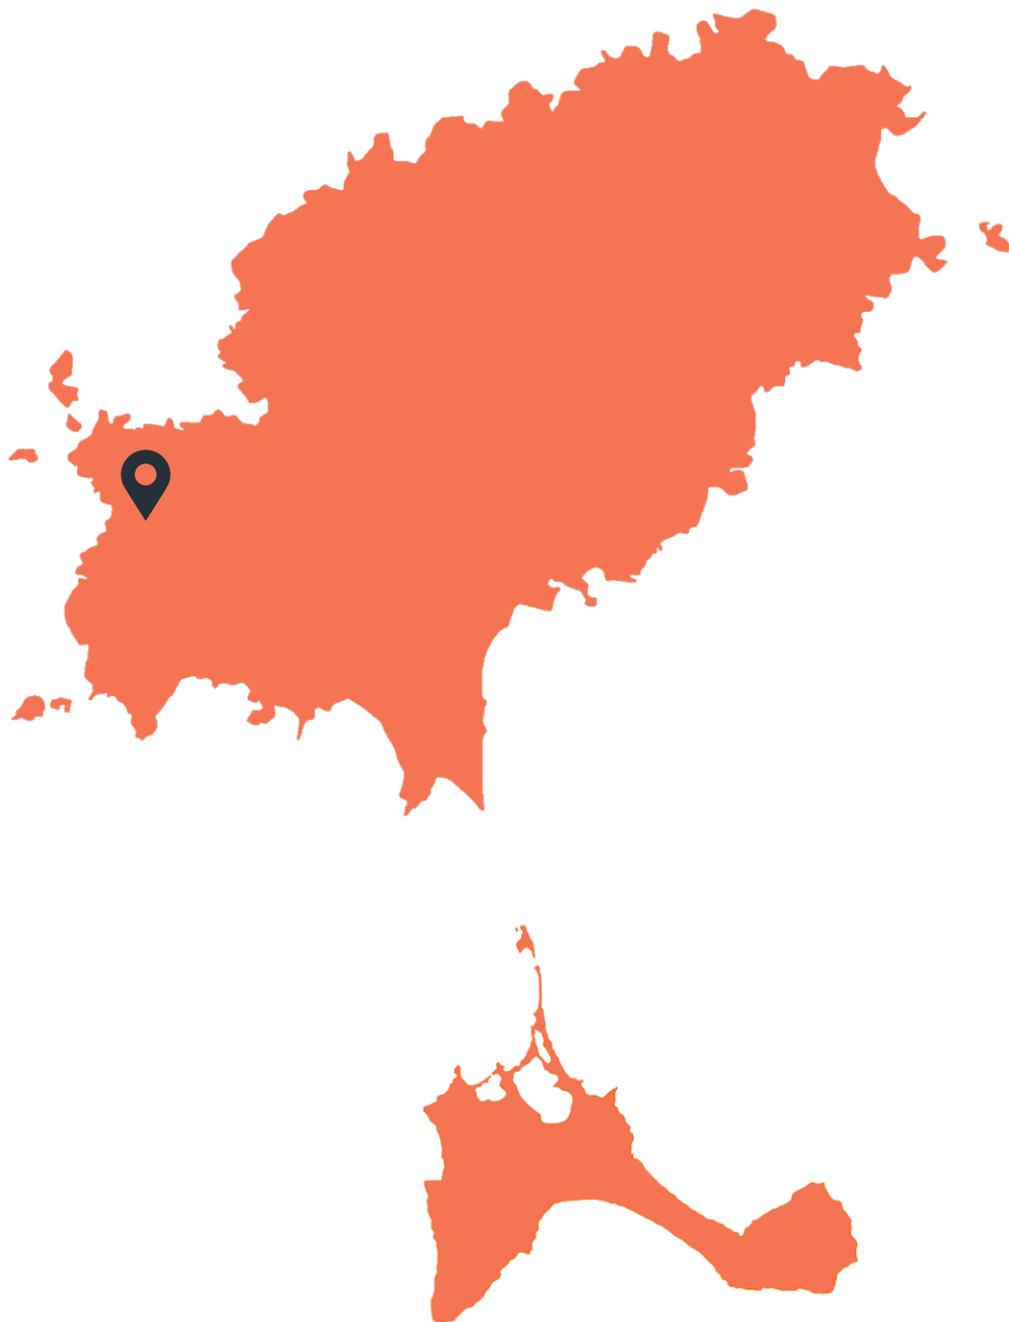

Floor-to-ceiling glass doors transform each space into an external one. There's nothing but rolling hills and the sea breeze between you and the horizon.

Property Details

- Open-plan living area
- Bespoke, modern kitchen
- Array of dining areas
- Five, en-suite bedrooms
- Outdoor terraces with showers
- Large swimming pool
- Manicured gardens

Location

Consider Can Mikkie your gateway to Ibiza's quieter west coast, where a white-sand strip backed by hills makes up the gem-size resort of Cala Tarida. The sea is gin-clear, watersports plentiful and the Cotton Beach Club a favourite among the well-heeled. Head north for hidden coves. When you're in a high-energy mood, climb nearby Sa Talaia, Ibiza's highest mountain. Or spend a laid-back Saturday in nearby San José, as locals peddle organic produce and handicrafts at its ecological market.

Ibiza Airport (21 mins)

Ibiza Town (24 mins)

San José (13 mins)

Specialising in London and Ibiza's design-led homes.

Let's talk

+34 871 515 302

hello@domusnovaibiza.com

domusnovaibiza.com