

DOMUS NOVA

Villa Skye, San Carlos
For 14 guests

A refurbished 17th-century finca that captures the free-spirited lifestyle of the White Isle's rural north. Gym, pool and yoga studio included.

Restless minds can truly disconnect in this nine-bedroom retreat. Perched on a hilltop and framed by the wild beauty of the northern coastline, it's an escape that takes you off the beaten track. Exposed juniper trusses, high ceilings and generous proportions whisper its homestead heritage while state-of-the-art luxuries elevate the everyday. Drink in scenic views of Ibiza's rolling hills and lesser-trodden seaside as you dip between the pool, the shaded al-fresco kitchen and the garden canopy. Small plates taste better with a panoramic backdrop.

Sheltered among the aromatic citrus trees and hanging vines, Villa Skye's surrounding countryside is unspoiled and its privacy uninterrupted. Laid-back but effortlessly indulgent, it's a home best enjoyed with friends and family. Lounge on the poolside daybeds after powering through circuits at the gym. Post swim, grab drinks from the garden chiringuito Garden Bar or soothe tense muscles in the sauna. Sunset stretches in the outdoor yoga studio is a must. There's plenty of room for young ones to kick a football in the landscaped. Imaginations can run wild in the treehouse.

When temperatures drop, move inside. Drift between firelit lounges, breakfast nook, and the sleek kitchen. High-spec appliances make light work of mealtimes served in the formal dining area. The five bedrooms are generous, brightly lit and framed in knotted timber. The views from the master suite are worth waking up for. Gaze across the horizon from the balcony. Extended family would be happy in the whitewashed, self-contained annexes. Privacy is sown into this villa's blueprint, Ibicencan style.

Picking up fresh produce at Cala Llenya or local crafts at Las Dalias market. Explore the coves of Cala Mastella or dive into the azure waters of Cala Boix.
